

RPL ASSESSMENT

Once-off RPL Assessment against the full NQF Level 4 STI qualification

What is this?

Recognition of prior learning (RPL) means that your competencies are recognised and acknowledged, however obtained. In short, we assess what you already know and can do. No learning material is supplied, unless gaps are identified with the final formative assessment

Who qualifies?

You need a minimum of 5 years' technical experience in Short Term Insurance. You must have worked with all classes in either personal, commercial and/or a niche category of insurance. You should have a very good understanding of FAIS, ethics, insurable risk, underwriting and claims

What does it entail?

In short, we send you a portfolio of evidence template of 23 pages

You complete the template with you details, sign the respective pages and declarations, add your naturally workplace evidence and complete an analysis of 15 current media articles

This is followed by a final formative assessment, called a mock exam and then, finally, a closed book summative assessment

The Recognition of Prior Learning Assessment (RPL) is available to those of you that have been working within the short term insurance industry for a good couple of years (at least 5) and you know what you are doing. You understand the fundamental principles of short term insurance and you have worked extensively with either personal, commercial and/or a niche insurance category

The process

- Complete the learner registration form and return it with a copy of your ID, Matric Certificate and updated CV
- Qualifying candidates will be invoiced, and upon payment we will e-mail you the portfolio template with a guideline document on how the template should be completed, as well as a link to an online video
- You will complete the portfolio and add to it all of your documents, evidence and completed media research assignment and return it to us for assessment
- We will send you feedback as well as the mock exam
- Once returned, we assess and provide you with feedback and we could provide you with material on gaps identified
- You then complete the final closed book summative assessment
- This process takes more or less 6 - 12 weeks on average, depending on the candidate

RPL involves the following

As per SAQA, RPL involves:

- Comparing the previous learning and experience against the learning outcomes required for a qualification
- Accepting that those learning experiences meet the requirements to obtain the qualification
- Allowing for accelerated access to further learning, and
- Assessing and giving credit for evidence of learning that has already been acquired in different way (on-the-job, formal, informal etc.)

The RPL tool designed by René has successfully been utilised to award the full qualification to thousands of insurance experts since 2007

Enrolments and exam dates are flexible and done at your workplace
